

Starting a New Business:

A Step by Step Guide to Starting or Expanding your Business in Oshkosh

City of Oshkosh
Department of Community Development
215 Church Avenue
Oshkosh, WI 54901
PH: 920-236-5000
FAX: 920-236-5053

<http://www.ci.oshkosh.wi.us>

START

Contact the City of Oshkosh Planning Services Division at (920) 236-5059 or visit City Hall at 215 Church Avenue to confirm the project conforms with city zoning codes and discuss next steps.

Contact the City of Oshkosh Inspection Services Division at (920) 236-5050 or visit City Hall at 215 Church Avenue after discussing the project with Planning Services to ensure project conforms with state building codes and discuss next steps.

Staff will advise on next steps that may be necessary if the project is feasible.

Starting a Business in an Existing Building? Begin Here:

Step 1:

Call Planning Services to confirm the proposed use of your building is compliant with the zoning code.

Planning and Zoning Services:

Phone: (920) 236-5059

Fax: (920) 236-5053

City Hall 215 Church Avenue (Second Floor)

Oshkosh WI, 54901

http://www.ci.oshkosh.wi.us/Community_Development/Planning_Services/

Other Planning Services responsibilities:

- Any new signage or additions to existing signage will require a review/permit. The Planning and Zoning Office can review the sign's copy, placement, and size. Once zoning is approved a sign permit will be issued by Inspection Services, which will verify that the structure is being built to code, and if necessary, installed by a licensed contractor.
- The Planning and Zoning Office can also assist in questions pertaining to garbage collection. Commercial property owners are responsible for arranging their own garbage collection with a private service provider. If you have questions regarding where your refuse containers can be placed call the Planning and Zoning Office located on the second floor of City Hall.

Planning and Zoning Services provides planning services to the community, dealing with activities such as zoning and subdivision regulations, land use planning, economic development, historic preservation and housing programming.

Zoning is the division of land into districts. These districts have uniform zoning regulations including those on land use, height, setbacks, lot size, density, coverage, and floor area ratio. Zoning and its regulations help ensure a city will grow and change in a managed, predictable way, to help safeguard the health, safety, and welfare of a city. You must have the appropriate zoning before you may build on your land.

Please call Inspection Services Division to see if a building plan is code compliant and if a building plan is required prior to obtaining permits.

Inspection Services:

Phone: (920) 236-5050

Fax: (920) 236-5128

City Hall 215 Church Avenue (Second Floor)

Oshkosh WI, 54901

Mail: Inspection Services Division, PO Box 1130, Oshkosh WI 54903-1130.

Permit Inspections:

- Building, Electrical, Plumbing, and HVAC permits are required when making alterations to your building.
- These permits can be obtained, reviewed, and issued by the Inspection Services Division.
- If you are renting a space you will need the property owner's signature in order to obtain any permits. The property owner must physically come into City Hall and sign the permit.
- Permit applications can be found here and sent in by mail or fax:
http://www.ci.oshkosh.wi.us/Community_Development/Inspection_Services/applications_and_forms.asp (City Website → Departments → Inspection Services Division → Permits/Forms → Applications and Forms).
- Please note the permit fees which can be reviewed here:
http://www.ci.oshkosh.wi.us/Community_Development/Inspection_Services/assets/pdf/PERMIT_FEES.pdf (City Website → Departments → Inspection Services Division → Permits/Forms → Permit Fees). Please call to confirm permit fee amount.
- Scheduled inspections are required during various phases of your construction project. Required inspections can be found here:
http://www.ci.oshkosh.wi.us/Community_Development/Inspection_Services/assets/pdf/Required_Inspections-Commercial.pdf (City Website → Inspection Services Division → Permits/Forms → Applications and Forms → Required Inspections for Commercial Projects).
- Inspections can be scheduled by calling the inspection request line (920) 236-5128 or online.

Step 3:

- Please refer to pages 9 and 10 for other required steps for other City of Oshkosh department requirements.

Starting a Business in an Existing Building that Requires a Conditional Use Permit or Planned Development Approval

Start with steps 1 through 3 that are found on page 3 and 4 before obtaining your Conditional Use Permit.

What is a Conditional Use Permit (CUP)?

- Each of the City's zoning districts includes a specific list of conditional uses that are permitted only through the issuance of a conditional use permit granted by the Common Council. Conditional uses are those uses that are unique or may have an unusual impact in their location or operation that requires in depth review of their location, design, configuration, and operation.

What is a Planned Development approval (PD)?

- A Planned Development (PD) is an overlay district that is placed over a residential, commercial, or industrial zoning district. The purpose of the Planned Development is to achieve higher quality projects with additional amenities and greater development standards. The PD allows added flexibility from the underlying or base standards of the Zoning Ordinance in return for the higher quality development project. Once a PD Overlay (approved by the Common Council) has been applied to a property or area, all development on the property or within the area must either comply with the approved PD, amend the PD, or a new PD be established.

What next?

- Contact Planning Services to discuss interest in a CUP or PD (920) 236-5059. Staff will then schedule an appointment with you to discuss ordinance requirements, the request's consistency with the Comprehensive Plan, and potential concerns regarding the proposed use.

DISCLAIMER: After you receive your CUP or PD you may also need a Site Plan Review if necessary (See below).

Starting a Business in an Existing Building, a Vacant Lot, or Expanding a Building that Requires a Conditional Use Permit or Planned Development Approval

Start with steps 1 through 3 that are found on page 3 and 4 before obtaining your Conditional Use Permit.

DISCLAIMER: After you receive your CUP or PD you may also need a Site Plan Review if necessary (See below).

Starting a Business on a Vacant Lot OR Expanding an Existing Business

Start with steps 1 through 3 that are found on page 3 and 4 before proceeding with the Site Plan Review process.

What is Site Plan Review?

- The site plan review process is required for every commercial, industrial, institutional, and multi-family (three or more units) projects in the City prior to issuance of a building permit or developmental activity. The Site plan review requirement applies to first-time development of property as well as for additions and expansions to existing developments.

What next?

- Contact the Site Plan Review Coordinator (920) 236-5059. Staff will then schedule a pre-submittal meeting with you.
